

A. Circle the correct answer.

1. The smallest unit of life?
a. particle                                      b. atom                                      c. cell
2. Cells are very small in size. To see a cell, we use a
a. binocular                                      b. stethoscope                                      c. microscope
3. Cells that are made up of only one cell are called
a. unicellular organisms                      b. single celled organisms                      c. onecellular organisms
4. Amoeba grows in a person's
a. hair    b. small intestine                                      c. large intestine
5. I want to bake some cake. What organism can I use for baking?
a. yeast    b. lactobacilli                                      c. salmonella
6. This organism is usually harmless but some can cause serious food poisoning in humans.
a. salmonella                                      b. E.coli    c. amoeba
7. Organism made up of more than one cell are called _____. This organism consists of different or specialized cells working together to help the _____ organism live.
a. multi cellular organism                      b. many cell organism                                      c. unicellular organism
8. The largest cell in the human body
a. muscle cells                                      b. brain cells    c. skin

B. Put a ✓ if the organism is helpful to humans, X if it is harmful and NA if it does not help nor cause harm.

- |       |                 |       |            |
|-------|-----------------|-------|------------|
| _____ | 1. paramecium   | _____ | 5. E.coli  |
| _____ | 2. salmonella   | _____ | 6. euglena |
| _____ | 3. yeast        | _____ | 7. amoeba  |
| _____ | 4. lactobacilli |       |            |